

CHARLIE STETSON, AIA, LEED AP

Principal/Director

BOOTH HANSEN

A principal and owner, Charlie brings his multiple talents in management, delivery and design to Booth Hansen's projects. After graduating from both Illinois Institute of Technology and Clemson University, earning a Masters of Architecture Degree, Charlie sharpened his skills at several top tier firms before joining Booth Hansen in 1996. In addition to managing firm-wide initiatives he also leads project teams in the design of mixed use, cultural and academic assignments for our institutional and developer clients. In recent years he has focused on high-rise, residential/commercial developments that have helped shape Chicago's evolving skyline.
